UNIQUE PURIFICATION TECHNOLOGY

The double method works both inside and outside the unit, providing high effectiveness in eliminating airborne contaminants through Streamer technology and Active Plasma Ion discharge.

STREAMER TECHNOLOGY DISCHARGE

The three major functions of Streamer.

1 Clash *1
- Decomposes harmful substances on the dust collection filter by oxidation!

2 Cycle *1
- The deodorizing filter absorbs and decomposes odour.

3 Clean *2
- Removes bacteria from dust collection filter*3

Notes :

*1 Testing Organization: Life Science Research Laboratory, Co., Ltd. Test number: LSRL-1131 Test method: Placed the air purifier and an odour component, acetaldehyde, in a box of 1m³ and operated the air purifier. Examined increase of concentration of product (CO_2) generated by decomposition of acetaldehyde by Streamer. Test object: As an odour component, acetaldehyde. Test result: Confirmed increase of concentration of product (CO_2) generated by decomposition of acetaldehyde by Streamer. Test unit: Tested with MCMH55 series (turbo operation)

*2 Testing Organization: Tropical Infectious Diseases Research & Education Centre (TIDREC) Universiti Malaya. Test number: TS04-0909. Test method: Attached a test piece inoculated with bacterial liquid on the upstream side of the dust collection filter installed into the air purifier and operated in a closed test space of 24m³. Counted the number of live bacteria after 4 hours. Test object: One bacterium type. Test result: Reduced by more than 99.9% after 4 hours. Test unit: Tested with MCMH55 series (turbo operation)

ACTIVE PLASMA ION EMISSION

Ions are discharged into the air, where they combine with components in the air to form active species with strong oxidizing power, such as OH radicals. These active species attach to the surface of fungi and allergens and act on them.

Mechanism of Reduction by Active Plasma Ions

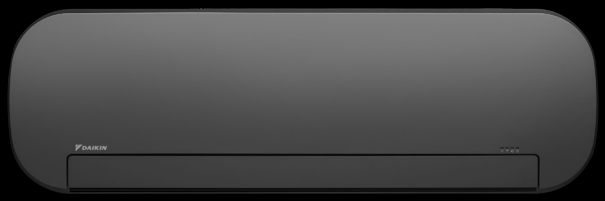

Concentration: 25,000 ions/cm³*

Note: *The number of ions per 1 cm³ of air blown into the atmosphere measured near the air outlet during operation with maximum airflow. Test conditions: temperature 25°C, humidity 50%.
